Nazi Prisoner Hanged at Lethbridge

Had Part in Slaying Of Fellow-Captive

LETHBRIDGE, (CP)—The first prisoner-of-war to be hanged by order of a civil court in Canada, Sgt. Werner Schwalb, 31-year-old former infantryman and winner of Hitler's iron cross, was hanged on the gallows of Lethbridge jail at 12:07 a.m. Wednesday for the murder of a fellow prisoner, August Plaszek, in the Medicine Hat internment camp July 22, 1943.

The once proud member of Rommel's vaunted Afrika Korps showed no emotion as he walked the last few steps to the gallows. His last words as the black hood was placed on his head were, "My Fuehrer I follow thee." He was pronounced dead by the prison doctor, J. S. Ray, at 12:20 a.m.

Schwalb was one of three prisoners charged with being implicated in the hanging-murder of Plaszek. One of the other two, Pte. Adolf Kratz, 25, was sentenced to be hanged with Schwalb, but had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment little more than 24 hours before he was to die.

"That's worse than hanging," Kratz is reported to have said on receiving word his sentence had been commuted.

The other accused, 30-year-old L/Cpl. Johannes Wittinger, was acquitted by an Alberta supreme court jury last Saturday and has been turned over to Canadian authorities.

Schwalb, who won his iron cross as a panzer tank gunner in North Africa, marked his 31st birthday last June 11. Before enlisting in the German army in 1937 he had been a baker-cook.

U.S. Warships Are Off Trieste

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The United States moved Tuesday to place its present entire Mediterranean naval strength—a cruiser and two destroyers—off troubled Trieste, focal point of sharp differences with Russia.

The navy disclosed Vice Admiral Bernhard H. Bieri, commander of these forces, is proceeding to Trieste aboard his flagship, the new 10,000-ton cruiser Fargo. The two destroyers of his command, the Small and the Powers, already are there.

The function of the Mediterranean naval force, as described tersely by a navy department spokesman, is to "support the army of occupation."

Diplomatic authorities continued jittery over the possibility of an international explosion at Trieste—even while State Secretary Byrnes and Foreign Minister Molotov negotiate at Paris.

Officials have received reports of a possible Yugoslav attempt to seize the city despite the fact it lies wholly within the Allied zone of occupation in Italy and is protected by British and American troops drawn up along the so-called "Morgan line" facing Yugoslavia.

Reports reaching the United States government have spoken of troop movements in Yugoslavia. Last week's blast in the Yugoslav press about Allied activities around Trieste was interpreted as a possible prelude to some Yugoslav activity.

Hint at Surprise Development In Thorny Problem of Trieste Port

PARIS, (AP)—French newspapers printed unconfirmed reports Wednesday that Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia was expecting a telephone call from Moscow which might bring a surprise development in the Trieste issue, key to Italian peace negotiations.

State Secretary Byrnes of the United States was represented by American informants as encouraged by a series of private talks with Mr. Molotov, who has been adamant in demanding that Trieste be transferred from Italy to Yugoslavia.

Although the foreign ministers may have been more optimistic concerning working out an agreement on Trieste, a Yugoslav spokesman took an uncompromising attitude.

The spokesman for Marshal Tito stated flatly that a French compromise for a 10-year internationalization of Trieste was not acceptable, and that Tito's government would never sign a peace treaty with Italy which does not provide for a Yugoslav "solution" on Trieste.

The Yugoslav "solution" is for the creation of a "seventh Yugoslav republic" embracing the city.

Grant McConachie Honored for Service to Aviation

Jacox, president of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, chairman of the dinner, is shown in the background. Premier Manning also praised Mr. McConachie.—R.C.A.F. Photograph.

Say Nazi Radio Ordered Captives

MEDICINE HAT, (CP)—Evidence that prisoners in the Medicine Hat internment camp had secret radios and received "news every evening from Germany" was heard Tuesday from a witness testifying at the trial of Sgt.-Major Bruno Perzenowski, charged with the murder of a fellow-prisoner, Cpl. Karl Lehmann, here on Sept. 10, 1944.

The prisoner-of-war witness, a former member of the luftwaffe, told defence counsel G. E. A. Rice orders received from Germany governed prisoners in the same manner as they governed citizens in Germany.

He said shortly after the attack on Hitler's life an order had been issued that all traitors were to be done away with. Witness said Lehmann was considered to be a traitor, and he was sure those responsible for his killing "were carrying out an order."

He told also of having been visited Sept. 10, 1944 by Sgt.-Major Willi Mueller, also charged with the murder, and being told by him the "chief of the disturbance group had been established and he was to be sentenced that day, and that he was to take part."

Later he had gone to hut "DZ" where the man was to be sentenced and found the accused, Mueller and a third prisoner-of-war there. Perzenowski had gone out and returned a few minutes later with a corporal.

The corporal, asked by Perzenowski what his part was in the disturbance, had been told he had no part. Then everything happened quickly. Someone shouted "the rope" and he had seen Busch (Sgt.-Maj. Heinrich Busch, also accused) attach a rope to the pipe under the ceiling. The rope "tore," he said, and then someone shouted, "out" and he had left the hut and returned to his own quarters.

Witness said he moved to Camp Neys in Ontario Sept. 11, and there had met others who had knowledge of the incident, and it was decided "the affair would be brought to the attention of the German authorities as soon as they returned home."

King's Murder Now Believed

BANGKOK, (AP)—Medical evidence secretly studied by a board of 18 physicians supports to a considerable extent the theory that youthful King Ananda Mahidol was the victim of an assassin.

The 20-year-old monarch was found dead in his apartment June 9.

The offical report to parliament the next day said he accidentally shot himself and that the bullet went through the forehead.

There were numerous rumors, however, that the King either had committed suicide because of a thwarted love affair or because of dissatisfaction with his role as monarch, or that he had been killed by reactionary Royalists who disliked his democratic tendencies.

Jew Terrorists Are Convicted

JERUSALEM, (CP)—All 31 alleged members of the Jewish terrorist organization Irgun Zvai Leumi on trial Wednesday were found guilty on charges of carrying explosives and were made liable to the death penalty. The trial started Monday.

The defendants—30 men and a woman, ages ranging from 17 to 28—refused to recognize jurisdiction of the three-man military court, claiming status as prisoners-of-war.

Result of the trial is believed closely linked with the fate of three British officers kidnapped a week ago and held as hostages by the Irgun Zvai Leumi.

Troops and police were called during the trial to quell an uproarious courtroom scene when the accused leaped to their feet and started shouting.

Meanwhile, a British destroyer was reported in charge of a Panamanian ship with nearly 1,300 illegal Jewish immigrants aboard. The ship sailed from a Gulf of Genoa port June 29.

See More Loans If Interest Cut

By Torchy Anderson

OTTAWA—Government officials who recommended the proposed change in interest rate on small loans—from 2 percent to 1½ percent believe that the reduction will increase rather than decrease the business of legitimate small loan companies.

The amending bill to the 1939 legislation has been passed to the banking and commerce committee by the commons. The committee has not announced its sittings.

Government spokesmen say that the reduction is being made for two reasons: First, because of the general reduction in all interest rates. Second, because when the rate was set in 1939 it was clearly stated that it was experimental. Since that time the annual turnover of small loans has increased from $8,000,000 to $20,000,000. They think it will increase again under the lower interest rate.

Pressmen Told Return to Work

Edmonton pressmen, members of the local union of the International Pressmen's and Assistants' Union of North America, formerly employed by The Edmonton Journal and The Edmonton Bulletin, who engaged in a work stoppage June 5 in sympathy with the illegal strike of printers formerly employed by the two dailies, have been instructed to return to work by Mr. George L. Berry, their international president, who resides in Tennessee.

At a meeting of representatives of the local union with Charles E. Campbell and W. A. MacDonald, publishers of The Bulletin and The Journal, respectively, it was agreed that the pressmen will return to work Thursday morning.

Row in Strike South Beer Men

CALGARY, (CP)—A showdown battle is on between the Calgary beverage dispensers union and 21 city hotels. A longstanding wage dispute came to a head Tuesday and the union called its 120 members out of the 18 union hotels.

With the 18 beer parlors closed, the hotelmen prepared to open with non-union staffs, and by night the union turned its attention on the three non-union hotels, closing them all.

A near riot, involving several fist fights and broken windows marked the clash of pickets and the beer parlor customers at one hotel. Intervention of police quickly hushed the mob of spectators, strikers and patrons.

Four Medicine Hat beer parlors also closed. Union officials in Calgary say the strike will spread "all over the province."

Wages are at the root of the dispute. The union wants $35 weekly for tapmen, $32 for floormen. Present scale is $34.60 and $28.60. Hotel officials said they would reopen in "a few days" with non-union staffs, paying them $35 and $30.

Lethbridge and Edmonton hotels are paying $35 and $32 and are not involved in the dispute. Any strikes there would be "sympathy" walkouts. An attempt at a compromise is being worked out in the Crowsnest, and a strike is anticipated at Drumheller.

Food Coupon Black Market Brings Arrest of Bank Men

By H. R. Hardy

OTTAWA.—At least four employes of the Banque Provinciale du Canada are under arrest on charges of "black marketing" in connection with ration coupons held by the bank, it was disclosed in the commons Tuesday night by Robert Mayhew, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Ilsley.

But the government is ready to permit the bank to re-engage in ration coupon banking "if adequate assurances can be obtained that it will provide the services required," Mr. Mayhew said.

Mr. Mayhew, giving information on what may become a major black market scandal, admitted that more than one branch of the Banque Provinciale du Canada is involved and that persons not in the employ of the bank also are implicated and will be charged.

Mr. Mayhew said three persons involved had "admitted their guilt."

John Diefenbaker, (Prog. Con., Lake Centre) swung the spotlight of public inquiry on to the coupon-dealing activities of the bank.

Finance Minister Ilsley had left his seat and it was Mr. Mayhew who had to bear the brunt of the questioning after Mr. Diefenbaker had introduced the subject by referring to a prices board press release which stated the Banque Provinciale du Canada had been notified it would not be allowed to take part in the ration coupon banking system after July 31.

Mr. Mayhew said in the case of the Banque Provinciale du Canada there had been "considerable difficulty" in obtaining a proper operation of the coupon banking system and that the bank did not appear "willing" to provide the services required.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, wanted to know if Mr. Mayhew later would give the house the scale of salaries paid by the bank to its employes, "so that we may know they were paid a sufficient amount to remove them from temptation in responsible positions."

Mr. Mayhew promised to do so.

New Security Tax In Budget Hinted

OTTAWA, (CP)—With the budget only one day away observers on parliament hill are forecasting Finance Minister Ilsley will announce relief in income taxes, corporation taxes and excess profits taxes.

It may turn out some of the relief in income taxes will be offset by a new social security tax based on incomes. It is possible such a tax at four or five percent may be imposed and will apply to all salaries above $660 and to a maximum of $3,000.

It is explained if this proposal is carried out, and it is known the cabinet has given it a great deal of consideration, every person with a salary of $3,000 or more will pay the same, between $50 and $60, and those under that amount comparatively less.

POLICEMAN DIES

CALGARY, (CP) — Sgt. Syd Wheatley, 41, veteran member of the Calgary city police force, died Tuesday.

Deny Looting Dead in Plane

ST. DONAT, Que., (CP)—Police Chief Leo Bertrand of this Laurentian mountain village said Tuesday that, pending orders from Ottawa, members of his force were guarding the bodies of the 24 Canadian airmen killed in the 1943 crash of an R.C.A.F. Liberator.

Chief Bertrand branded reports that leave money had been looted from the bodies by army deserters hiding in the mountains as "absolutely wrong." He said "the bodies have not been touched."

Lords Approve Social Security

LONDON, (CP)—The house of lords Tuesday gave its blessing to "cradle-to-grave" insurance for Britons by granting second reading to the Labor government's national insurance bill. Third reading is expected shortly.

The bill provides increased benefits such as 26 shillings ($5.72) weekly for sickness, unemployment or retirement, plus a further 16 shillings for a dependent wife and 7s 6d for the first child. Pensions will be paid men at 65 and women at 60 if they retire from industry, the single person being given 26 shillings and married couples 42 shillings. The basic old age pension now is 10 shillings weekly.

Widows and orphans get additional assistance. Mothers in employment will receive 36 shillings weekly for six weeks before and after confinement and a 4 pound ($17.80) maternity grant.

Death grants will be at the rate of 20 pounds for an adult down to 6 pounds for a child under three.

All this will cost the employed man who is more than 18 years old 4s 6d (91 cents) in contributions weekly. It will cost the working woman 3s 7d.

Moslems Accept Interim Regime

NEW DELHI, (CP)—The Moslem league has agreed to join the interim Indian government proposed by the British cabinet mission and the viceroy, Viscount Wavell, according to league secretary, Nawabzada Liaqutali Khan.

PLAN NEW PROJECTS

CALGARY, (CP)—Forty new projects for duck conservation in the prairie provinces, costing $324,000, are being undertaken this year by Ducks Unlimited and should be completed by fall, Thomas Main, Winnipeg, general manager of the organization said in Calgary Tuesday.

Mr. Main is on his way to the Athabaska delta to inspect the work being done there.

Saluting, Other Distinctions Cut As U.S. Heeds Army Gripe Board

WASHINGTON, (AP)—War secretary Patterson Tuesday night ordered non-commissioned men get terminal leave pay like officers, that saluting be curbed and that other recommendations of the Doolittle "gripe board" be adopted.

In approving terminal leave pay for enlisted men and members of the Women's Army Corps, Mr. Patterson directed that credit for unused furlough time be counted starting July 1. this means that soldiers subsequently discharged will be paid for any furloughs coming to them after July 1 if they do not get the actual time off. No provision is made to pay for furlough time unused before July 1.

Saluting will be abolished except on military posts, in overseas occupied areas, and on ceremonial occasions.

Mr. Patterson also announced he has ordered stricken from army regulations an order that "officers are required to wear distinctive uniforms, to live apart from their men in garrison and to confine their social contacts to other officers."

Two Killed and 34 Injured In N.Y. Ferry Terminal Fire

NEW YORK, (AP)—Two persons burned to death and 34 were overcome or injured Tuseday in a nine-alarm, $2,000,000 blaze which engulfed Staten Island's St. George ferry terminal shortly after it had been emptied of 500 passengers. Sparks from a short-circuit on a Staten Island Rapid Transit electric train started the fire, said Assistant District Attorney Methfessel.

Within five minutes the 40 year-old rambling wooden structure was a mass of flames, fed by paint, and grease in a basement shop.

Mrs. Cornelius White, ticket agent, died in her booth, Alice Keilor, another ticket agent, was pulled from her booth by a patrolman. Fireman Harold Clendening was trapped by the fast-spreading flames when he tried to rescue the women.

Fourteen persons were injured and 20 others, mostly firemen, police and ferry employes, were overcome by smoke and heat. It was two hours before the fire was brought under control.

Show Optimism On Atomic Plan

NEW YORK, (AP)—The United Nations atomic conferees left the veto issue deadlocked between the opposite views of the United States and Russia Wednesday and headed for an amicable start on a plan aimed at ultimate world control and development of atomic energy.

When the last members of the U.N. atomic energy commission had been polled Tuesday for their views on separate control programs advanced by the United States and Russia, all but those two great powers were agreed there were broad measures of merit in both plans.

Only Poland gave unqualified endorsement to the Russian plan, but it was generally agreed the two proposals might be welded into a single strategic program to end the threat of atomic warfare.

Express Optimism

With the members of the commission expressing optimism over the possibilities of meshing the proposals into one integrated program, the commission chairman, Foreign Minister Dr. Evatt of Australia, set up an atomic working committee to begin at once trying to draft an international control plan.

The committee represents all the 12 members on the commission including Canada and will hold its first meeting Friday.

The prime requirement of the American atomic plan calls for renunciation of the veto on atomic matters; Russia is opposed to any veto surrender.

In Washington threat of a United Nations deadlock over atomic energy control followed by global atomic arms race stirred congress Tuesday as the result of Russia's blunt "do-it-our-way" approach to the problem.

Leading lawmakers declared emphatically that this country is not going to surrender its atomic bomb secrets until tested international controls are set up — something which the Russian plan does not appear to guarantee.

A charge by the Commuunist newspaper Pravda that the American plan for international control of the weapon "reflects evident striving for world rule" provoked sharp counter criticism from members of the senate's special atomic committee.

Calling the charge "ridiculous," Sen. Richard Russell (Dem., GA.), a committee member, told a reporter he thinks "the Russians should stop judging all other nation's motives by their own selfish attitudes."

U. S. COAL PRICE UP

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Price increases averaging 91 cents a ton for hard coal were authorized Tuesday by the Office of Price Administration to offset wage boosts won by John L. Lewis' miners and other cost increases. The boost, totalling $44,500,000 a year, will be felt mainly by householders

Troops Human? Army Says No

By Basil Dean

LONDON.— Britons have discovered that, in eyes of the war office, soldiers are not human.

On the army form which deals with condemnation of food supplies, the medical officer signing the form is required to state whether food being condemned is "unfit for human consumption or unfit for consumption by troops". Instructions with the form order the M.O. to delete which-ever is inapplicable".

This is reported in a letter to the London Daily Mirror from an army messing sergeant, who adds: "Would you be kind enough to tell me how long troops have been separate species of life and to which animal species they belong."

Punish Tartars For War Crimes

MOSCOW, (AP) — As punishment for widespread treachery during the most critical period of the German invasion, the Crimean Tartars and the natives in the area around the Grozny and Mozdok oil fields in the Northern Caucasus have been resettled in other parts of Russia, it was disclosed officially Wednesday.

The Crimean and Chechen-Ingush states, formerly autonomous republics in the U.S.S.R., have been liquidated and reduced to provinces of the Russian federation.

The disclosure said detachments of Tartars and Chechens "waged an armed struggle" against the Red army on the side of the Germans (This was the first official Russian announcement of deflections in the Soviet Union during the war.)

It was stated that those who were resettled—the exact number was not specified—were "given new land and assistance." Places of their resettlement were not announced.

The ministry of state control disclosed also that more than a score of factory, mill and mine executives had been punished for misappropriation or misusing funds in various plants and enterprises throughout Russia.

Montreal Probes Double Slaying

MONTREAL, (CP)—A double slaying which police believe was murder and suicide was uncovered early Wednesday when a woman was found shot in the mouth on a downtown street and a man was found slain by a bullet through the eye in a nearby house.

The woman, Claudia St. Martin, 27, was lying fatally wounded on a downtown street when discovered by a passerby, police said. She died on the way to hospital.

A .38 calibre revolver was found beside her and police said she apparently shot herself.

A few minutes later the body of Raymond Beaudry, 48, was found in a house a few blocks away. He had been slain by a bullet through one eye.

New Army Plan Chinese Reds

NANKING, (AP) — A reliable source said Wednesday the Chinese Communists had given Gen. George Marshall a proposal for the reorganization of the Chinese armies.

The same source said the peace committee of three, composed of Gen. Marshall and a government and a Communist representative, had agreed on the two other outstanding points—cessation of hostilities and restoration of communications.

The new Communist proposal was understood to be a long way from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's demands, which include a requirements that the Communists give up certain strategic areas in North China.

Senator McRae Dies in Ottawa

OTTAWA, (CP)—Senator Alexander Duncan McRae, C.B., of Vancouver, 71, the man who piloted the Conservative victory in the general election of 1930, died in an Ottawa hospital Wednesday after a prolonged but sporadic illness.

For years a major figure in western Canada, he died of internal hemorrhages of the stomach and liver, accompanied by a serious blood condition. Death came after a week in hospital.

His passing created a sixth vacancy in the senate. Sixty-five of the remaining 90 seats are held by Liberals, 25 by Progressive Conservatives.

In his time, Senator McRae was a banker, colonizer, industrialist, soldier, holding the rank of major-general, and politician, but his intimates remember him chiefly for his powers of promotion and organization. They remember him as a man quite willing to gamble on a venture in land, fishing, logging or mining, quite willing to take a heavy loss and go back for more.

Those attributes made him one of the rich men in Canada. In 1934, he made an airplane trip to Great Bear Lake and later visited Edmonton.

Expects to Sign Wheat Pact Soon

LONDON, (CP)—Food Minister Strachey, fresh from a flying trip to Canada and the United States where he discussed world food problems, said Wednesday that the cereal position might improve fairly rapidly by autumn, 1947, if there were two good world harvests.

Mr. Strachey returned without signing a wheat agreement with Canada. He said he thought there were good prospects such an agreement would go through.

High political circles said agreement in principle was reached on a long-term wheat agreement with Canada, with only some technical details to be threshed out before signing.

He said the prospect for Canadian and United States harvests have improved in the last two or three weeks which is "very important" to Britain. He still hoped to be able to introduce more variety into the British diet in the form of fruit, fruit juices and dried eggs.

"We shall not ration bread unless it is absoutely necessary," said Mr. Strachey.

A Reuters News agency dispatch said a long-range wheat agreement between Canada and Britain would be signed within a week or 10 days. It said the agreement would run four years.

The Associated Press said the pact was reported delayed by a disagreement between Canada and the United States because the proposed price was less than present wheat quotations in the two countries.

Miners Staging Protest Strike

CALGARY, (CP)—Almost all Alberta mines were closed Wednesday as 6,000 miners, members of the United Mine Workers of America, went on strike for one day in protest against decisions and personnel of the Alberta Workmen's Compensation board.

Meetings were scheduled to be addressed by officials of District 18, United Mine Workers of America.

It is estimated, on the basis of annual production, that the loss in coal output Wednesday will amount to approximately 26,000 tons.

Unplaced Work Applicants Reduced 34,000 During May

OTTAWA, (CP)—Continued improvement in Canada's employment situation was reported this week by the labor department in a survey which showed 210,000 unplaced job-seekers registered at employment offices May 30, a reduction of 34,000 during the month.

Unfilled jobs at May 30 numbered 115,000, an increase of 2,000. These figures put unemployment at the January level.

The improvement occured despite the addition of 38,000 ex-servicemen and numerous university students to the labor force, the department said.

Greatest improvement was in male workers. Unplaced men numbered 170,000 at May 30 compared with 198,000 at May 2.

Unplaced women workers at 40,000 represented a drop of 6,000 during the month. The shortage of women workers at the end of the month had become acute with vacancies outnumbering applicants by 7,000.

Most Children Get Allowances

By H. R. Hardy

OTTAWA, —Family allowances are now being received on behalf of 92 percent of Canadian children under 16 years, Health Minister Claxton told the commons. The minister said there are 3,610,000 children in Canada under 16 and in May 1946, payments were made to 1,420,233 families in the amount of $19,934,614 in respect of 3,330,760 children.

Average allowance per family was $14.04 per month and the average per child was $5.98

Total estimated expenditures for administration, said the minister, would be $3,874,000, which is 1.6 percent of the estimated amount of the family allowances payable of $240,000,000.

Gladys Strum, (C.C.F., Qu'appelle), advocated extension of family allowances to cover pre-natal care.

Infant deaths at birth ranged from 35 per 1,000 in British Columbia to 77 per 1,000 in New Brunswick, said Mrs. Strum. This was "proof that half the infants died needlessly."

URGE TAX EXEMPTION

WINNIPEG, (CP) — The Manitoba Federation of Agriculture in its opening session here Tuesday passed a resolution calling for tax exemption on amounts up to $1,000 income from the sale of livestock and allied products. The resolution, which will be forwarded to the federal government, was "for the purpose of encouraging production" of these commodities.

Leo McCarey, movie producer-director with Paramount pictures who has been rated as the top money-maker in the United States in 1944 with 12-month earnings listed at $1,113,035, by the treasury department. That figure represents the gross income before being trimmed down by income taxes. McCarey produced such hits as "Going My Way" and "The Bells of St. Marys".

C.C.F. Sets Up 'Parity' Group

REGINA, (CP)—Immediate formation of a provincial fact-finding committee to inquire into parity prices for farmers and "parity" wages for workers was announced Tuesday by Agriculture Minister Nollet of Saskatchewan.

The action follows a meeting Saturday between provincial cabinet members and representatives of the Saskatchewan Occupational group council who urged that government action be taken in regard to continual price rises on commodities.

F. T. Appleby representing United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan Section, said that $1.86 a bushel for wheat would be a parity figure under the present circumstances. He said Saskatchewan farmers are discussing strike action in line with an Alberta movement.

Truck Stopped By Picket Line

CALGARY, (CP)—A truck attempting to remove goods from the Riverside Iron Works Co., Ltd., strike-bound plant, was turned back by picket lines Tuesday, William Longridge, business agent for the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, local 800, said Tuesday.

The pickets have been permitting the passage of some vehicles principally belonging to farmers to get materials and equipment from the plant. This will not be allowed from now on, Mr. Longridge said, because "The company has been taking advantage of it." He said there was no trouble when the picket line stopped the truck but that "a few words were exchanged."

See 'Average' Wheat Crop Likely for Western Canada

OTTAWA, (CP)—The dominion bureau of statistics Tuesday reported there were "fair prospects" of an "average" wheat crop in western Canada this year.

This estimate was based upon "conditions at the present time and barring the developments of adverse weather and moisture conditions during the critical period between now and the end of July," the bureau said in the sixth of a series of 15 telegraphic reports.

The report said rainfall since April 1 has been generally below normal but many areas received better-than-average precipitation last fall and as a result the total moisture supply has not been as inadequate as would appear from consideration of growing-season precipitation alone.

Pest infestations have not been "overly severe" to date, although the extent of saw-fly damage remains to be determined.

Moisture Is Good

In Alberta, with the exception of the Peace River district, moisture conditions are good throughout the province.

In the southeast where earlier moisture conditions were poor, rainfall of one inch or more was recorded at all stations reporting, and moisture supplies now are sufficient to carry crops into July. Range grasses are growing well in this area, but the rains were too late to improve the hay crop. Winter wheat is headed out.

Crop prospects in southwestern Alberta are good, although crops east of Burdett are still patchy owing to previous moisture scarcity. Sugar beets are reported from Lethbridge to be 80 percent thinned, the earlier setbacks from frost and drought being largely counteracted by the later favorable weather. Warmer weather is required in some areas to speed growth of spring grains.

In central Alberta, the wheat crop is particularly promising and coarse grains are improving rapidly with recent rain. All crops show a very rank growth in the Stettler area where pastures are much improved and a fair hay crop is anticipated. From Calgary crops are reported well stooled, with wheat averaging 10 inches in height and oats and barley up eight inches.

Wheat in Shot Blade

The wheat crop is starting into the shot blade in the north-central district and late-sown crops are doing well.

In the Peace River district crops are growing rapidly, but with only scattered showers during the week some places are becoming critically dry.

The saw-fly blight has passed its peak in southern Alberta with infestation general. Grasshopper infestation, however, has been greatly reduced by climatic conditions. Serious locust damage has occured from hailstorms moving from Cochrane to Strathmore, Carstairs to Olds, Cremona to Airdrie, Nanton through Stavely, Burdett to Whitla, and at scattered points throughout the southern central district.

Average precipitation for the province since April 1 has been six percent below normal, compared with eight percent below normal a week ago. Mean temperature for the week ending June 24 has been one degree below normal.

To Keep File Of Each Pupil

REGINA, (CP)—A new system of "pupil accounting" similar to the school records now under consideration in Britain, will be instituted in Saskatchewan schools next fall when a record folder will be issued for every pupil in the province, Education Minister Lloyd announced Tuesday.

The records will cover educational, vocational, social and personal factors and will be "guarded as strictly confidential documents," he said.

Sheriff Seizes $45,000 In Bank

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Deputy Sheriff John Digle has seized $45,000 cash and a quantity of jewelery at the Bank of Montreal on a writ against Chow Ming Suey, one of five Chinese alleged to have been involved in a lottery ring broken here last week in a police raid.

The seizure was made on a writ issued out of the exchequer court and is for sums which the Chinese is alleged to owe the dominion government for income taxes dating back to 1943.

National revenue department investigators returned to the scene of last week's Chinatown raid, seeking other assets belonging to Chow Ming Suey.

During the raid last Friday police seized $47,000 in Canadian currency, $1,200 in United States gold coins, a large quantity of elaborate jewelery, Chinese jade, narcotics and a ton of lottery tickets.

July Conference Urged by Mayors

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Mayor Robert H. Saunders of Toronto, in an address to the ninth annual conference of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, called upon the federal and provincial governments to forget "politics and sectionalism" in solving the dominion's taxation problems.

Mayor Saunders said there is "not a chance of knowing where we are going," until the governments find a solution to their differences.

"We should have a clear and definite statement about our responsibilities," said Mayor Saunders.

He urged the federal government to invite the provincial premiers and municipal representatives for a conference in Ottawa in July and thresh out the problems of taxation, their benefits and incidence.

Mayor Lucien Borne of Quebec said that municipalities are faced with appropriations hardly sufficient to meet taxpayers' demands because these demands "include services which should be rendered and paid for by a higher level government."

He complained of crown properties being tax-exempt and benefitting from municipal services without contributing in any way to their cost.

Mayor Ray T. Forbes of Fredericton said problems of smaller cities are similar to those of the larger cities. The Federation of Mayors should stand together so that they will have a bond throughout Canada.'

O.P.A. Effectiveness Gone; Fear Inflationary Prices

By Peter Inglis

WASHINGTON.—A senate-house conference Monday night agreed on a measure to keep the office of price administration alive for another year. But Tuesday many observers here are wondering whether it would not have been better to let it die than to offer it the emasculated existence which it now faces.

Some of them say that the bill which now goes back to the two houses and probably will be approved as it stands is bound to set off an inflationary spiral which will push prices into the stratosphere.

For this they blame an amendment authored by Senator Robert Taft, Ohio, Republican, which guarantees producers, manufacturers and processers a margin of profit equal to that in the base period of 1941.

What this means is that a manufacturer of, for instance, washing machines, might be granted an immediate price increase of 15 percent to cover his increased production cost.

But the manufacturers of component parts of his machines would have been granted a similar boost. They would pass it on to him. He would pass it on to the public. Hence a total price increase, by this point of, say, 25 percent.

At which stage, in the rising market, wages would have gone up too. So the washing machine ceiling would have to be raised again. Whereupon wages would go up some more. And so on to infinity—or to the point where the boiler of the United States economy could no longer stand the pressure and would blow itself into little pieces.

C.N.R. Will Buy Manitoba Road

OTTAWA, (CP)—The commons Tuesday passed a bill authorizing the Canadian National Railways to purchase for $7,000,000 the Manitoba railway.

Transport Minister Chevrier said the Manitoba railway was an amalgamation of the Northern Pacific and Manitoba Railway company, the Winnipeg Transfer company, the Portage and Northwestern railway company and Waskada and northeastern railway company.

In 1901 these railways were leased to the province of Manitoba for 999 years. The lease was later assigned to the Canadian Northern railway which is part of C.N.R. The rental amounted to $300,000 annually.

The lease contained an option for purchase at $7,000,000.

Mr. Chevrier said the transaction was a good stroke of business. The C.N.R. was tied to the Manitoba railway under a 999-year lease and it could save $90,000 a year by an outright purchase.

M.J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said that in fairness to the C.N.R. its capital structure should be revised and it should be relieved of some of the debt acquired with old lines. Mr. Coldwell said such a lease of 999 years was almost an insult to the intelligence of parliament. The purchase ultimately would mean a saving of some $86,000,000 he declared.

City Building Tops Average

By Richard Sanburn

OTTAWA, With the 1946 building season about at its peak, housing authorities in Ottawa hazard "only a guess" there are between 80,000 and 85,000 houses under construction in Canada, an all-time high.

The officials stressed this figure was only a guess because there is no way to find out how many houses are being built. To date, twice as many building permits have been issued as in the same period in 1945, but that is not an accurate guide.

Conditions vary across the dominion. The Edmonton 1946 house-building rate, if matched from coast to coast, would mean about 110,000 houses under construction.

Pickets Fight Toronto Police

TORONTO, (CP) — Pickets clashed with police Wednesday at the Anaconda American Brass company plant in suburban New Toronto where members of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (C.I.O.) are on strike for higher wages and shorter hours.

Between 100 and 200 pickets barred the way to sub-foremen who, under protection of the Ontario provincial police, sought to enter the plant. Five union men were taken into police custody and pickets tried to free them. Four of the union men later were charged with obstructing the officers.

Gun on Vessel Still Mystery

NANAIMO, B.C., (CP)— A loaded revolver was found on a passenger seat aboard the S.S. Princess Elaine, and the finder turned it over to the British Columbia police here.

Investigation through the fire arms national checkup disclosed that the gun belongs to the police department of Verdun, Que. How it got on to the steamer, 3,000 miles away, remains a mystery.

Power Still Off After 'Twister'

FORT FRANCES, Ont., (CP)—Communications company officials said Wednesday it would be at least a week before telephone and power facilities would be restored completely in this northwestern Ontario town, struck Monday by a short-lived "twister" that caused damage in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The 12 hospital patients injured in the storm were reported "doing well." Steve Pala, 43, the most seriously hurt, suffered a fracture of the leg when the horse he was driving bolted and he was thrown from his lumber-laden wagon.

Most unusual story of the storm was that about the plane which flew by itself. An Ontario forestry service plane, moored in the Rainy river by ropes attached to buoys, was held airborne at the rope's length for the full four-minute duration of the twister.

Commission to Investigate British Justices of Peace

By Basil Dean

LONDON, — Britain's amateur justices of peace, unpaid local dignitaries who conduct police courts where about 99 percent of offenders against English civil and criminal law are tried and sentenced, are to be investigated by a royal commission.

The justices, who usually sit four or five at a time on benches in police courts in Britain's smaller cities and rural areas, are the perpetuation of one of the country's oldest traditions - the system by which "the lord of the manor" dispensed summary jurisdiction. For some time, there has been considerable public criticism of a system, which is widely held to be obsolete and frequently incompetent.

It is not surprising that a Labor government has finally decided to have justices' activities investigated, since many socialists consider that magistrates benches are often strongholds of outworn feudal privilege. Commonest charge against them is that poor men summoned for poaching game on a rich man's estate usually are heavily punished, while wealthy defendants accused of dangerous driving get off far too lightly.

But there seems to be none of this class-consciousness about composition of the royal commission, which is headed by Lord Justice Du Parco. In fact, this morning's Communist Daily Worker sneers that the commission appointed by Prime Minister Attlee is largely composed of "Tory peers".

The commission's terms of reference require it to look into such questions as age limits for justices. At present there is no age limit, and even the tradition-loving Times suggests gently there might be a definite retiring age and that "the blameless ancients who cling, or even intellectual powers, have made their presence there an embarrassment rather than aid to justice".

The commission also will have to consider the whole subject of appointing stipendary magistrates who are now confined to larger cities, together with the tricky problem of providing the right sort of magistrates for juvenile courts.

Comments the Liberal News Chronicle: "It is almost incredible that not for 40 years has a government taken the step inaugurating an inquiry into administration of justice in minor courts. Justices of the Peace normally have no particular qualification for the office which they hold beyond experience they may glean during period of tenure. Changed social conditions of our time demand radical reconsideration of the whole system."

War Cunning Aids Convict

ISLE OF WHITE, (CP)—Three hundred British parachute troopers Wednesday ransacked wooded hills for an armed former commando who has used all his wartime cunning to elude searchers since he fled Parkhurst prison 11 days ago.

Low-flying airplanes, bloodhounds, police and troops all have been tried to trap the ex-commando, George Jackson, on the 147-square-mile island.

The island's 88,000 residents have been terrified by a dozen robberies, a hatchet attack on one man and theft of two automobiles.

Woman Charges Watched Slavs Mikhailovitch Brutally Killed

BELGRADE, (AP)—Gen. Draja Mikhailovitch was accused before a Yugoslav military tribunal Tuesday of countenancing the torture and killing of Yugoslav citizens by his Chetnik forces.

Guza Glavinic, 29, seventh witness to testify in the treason trial of the bearded defendant, said she and 10 men were billeted in a rural school building in August, 1941, when the Chetnicks attacked with mortars and machineguns, and that Mikhailovitch stood a few paces away while some of her companions were kicked and beaten to death.

"He never said a thing to stop it," she said.

Another witness, Ninko Sakic, when asked the routine question of whether he was "in dispute, in hate or in friendship connected with Draja Mikhailovitch," replied: "I hate him but I am not connected with him. He is responsible for the death of 300 of my (Partisan) comrades."

Mimilos Trifunovic, former premier of the Yugoslav government-in-London, testified the emigre cabinet had no direct contact with the Chetniks and all communications passed through the British authorities.

Radial Wage Parleys End

WINNIPEG, (CP)—The Winnipeg street railwamen's union of the One Big Union in a statement issued Tuesday said negotiations between itself and the Winnipeg Electric company for a new wage agreement had been ended.

The statement added, however, that its negotiating committee was studying phases of the differences between the union and company with a view to arriving at a settlement without recourse to the regional war labor board.

Fears Censoring UNRRA Reports

WASHINGTON, (CP) — Dean Acheson, acting secretary of state, late Tuesday told reporters:

1. The United States fears Russian censorship may be applied to reports of UNRRA activities in the Ukraine and Byelorussia although it has no knowledge such reports have been censored to date.

2. The Russians still are silent on the United States proposal for a 25-year treaty among the big powers to keep Japan disarmed. At Paris Foreign Minister Molotov has opposed a similar treaty for Germany.

Bill to Cut Settlers' Interests Criticized as 'Not Enough'

OTTAWA, (CP) — The commons Tuesday night debated hotly a resolution preliminary to a bill to reduce interest rates charged veterans of the great wars under the Soldier Settlement act.

Members of the three opposing parties — Progressive Conservative, C.C.F. and Social Credit — contended the bill would not go far enough and urged legislative action to give clear titles to land for veterans of the First Great War who were having difficulty keeping up their payments.

Walter Tucker, parliamentary assistant to Veterans Minister MacKenzie, defended the legislation and denied charges the government had attempted to control the house veterans' committee, which recommended the bill.

Robert Fair (S.C., Battle River) renewed efforts to have cancelled outstanding debts of veterans settlers of the First Great war.

"The five percent interest charged veterans of the First Great War is a steal and the seven percent on arrears is a greater steal," Mr. Fair said.

Under the bill the interest rate would be 3½ percent.

Only 16 percent of the original settlers had acquired title to their land and of the 25,017 who started only 6,153 were still on the land. The average debt still outstanding was $1,254.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, (AP)—While Col. Heinie Miller, National Boxing association executive secretary, is advocating the establishment of a 185-pound boxing class, he quotes figures which seem to show that fighters in this division would be few and far between. . . A breakdown in weights of United States army inductees, made by the surgeon general's office, shows that only four percent of the men weigh between 180 and 189 pounds; 2.4 percent between 190 and 199 and three percent over 200 pounds. . . By contrast 20.9 per cent weigh between 140 and 149 pounds, but Miller and the N.B.A. are opposed to such things as "junior welterweights". . . and why pick 185 pounds, anyway? This dept. can't see much difference between 174-pound Billy Conn fighting 199-pound Joe Louis in their first fight and some 186-pounder taking on a guy who weighs 220.

Today's Guest Star

"Lev," Paterson (N.J.) Morning Call: "The elimination of Conn as a top-flight contender leaves the heavyweight ranks as bare as a bubble dancer without the bubble."

Seventh City Tennis Title To Veteran Harry Kinloch

Playing at Glenora courts Tuesday in the annual city tournament, veteran Harry Kinloch gave the lie to the adage "they never come back" by winning his seventh city tennis title. Pitted against another ex-titlist, Andy (Shorts) Purcell, Kinloch turned in an impressive performance in racking up a straight set 6-2, 6-4, 6-4 triumph.

While Kinloch and Purcell were busy establishing supremacy, Isobel Hooper, former provincial junior champion, and diminutive Mrs. Pat Logan were hard at it winning titles of their own. Miss Hooper hung a 6-2, 6-2 pasting on Norma Mackay to capture the ladies' singles crown. Miss Logan took down the honors in the Bulletin cup by stopping Helen Lilly 6-4, 6-1, in an interesting final.

He's Still Got it

Kinloch, who last won the men's singles crown in 1936, wasn't far from the best form of his career as he went about the business of polishing off Purcell. Of course the latter, who hasn't played tennis with much seriousness since discovering golf a couple of years back, was not the Purcell of old. Nevertheless there was no denying the accuracy of the forehand and backhand drives which Kinloch employed to such deadly purpose. He was right on the target much of the time.

Purcell failed to make a stand until well along in the second set. He dropped the opener while winning but two games and was looking into a 4-1 deficit in the second when he suddenly came to life. Peppering Kinloch's backhand to good effect he quickly ran out three games to draw even at 4-4.

Kinloch promptly captured the crucial ninth game off his own service and then broke through Purcell's delivery to run out the set 6-4. The die was cast then and there. Purcell battled doggedly in the third set but failed to prolong it past the 10th game.

Miss Hooper Had Variety

Isobel Hooper brought a more varied stroke assortment to the picture than Norma Mackay in capturing the ladies' singles honors. She started dismally enough by losing the opening game on her own service but braced to capture six of the next seven games to run out the set.

Second set was almost a carbon copy of the opener. Miss Mackay, who won the title season 1944, broke her opponent's service to take the first game, then went into a decline. Again Miss Hooper needed but eight games to take the set and the laurels.

In the Bulletin final Helen Lilly quickly ran into a 4-2, first set lead. After this it was all Mrs. Logan. She took nine successive games while winning the opening set and establishing a 5-0 edge in the second before Miss Lilly again asserted herself. But time ran out for the latter at 6-1.

When Harry Kinloch defeated Andy (Shorts) Purcell at Glenora Tennis club Tuesday in the men's singles finals of the annual City tournament it marked the seventh time he has held the city title. The veteran baseliner played superbly in downing Purcell, also a former champion, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Benefit Fixture For Junior Ball

Facilities of Renfrew park are being turned over to the Junior Baseball league for a benefit game to be played Wednesday, July 3, at 6:30 p. m.

Proceeds of the contest will be spent in promoting the diamond sport among enthusiasts of junior and juvenile age.

Team leading the Junior circuit standing at the time of the benefit game will battle an all-star squad selected from the remaining aggregations. Sports writers will choose the all-stars.

LEGION SOCCER TEAM SCORES ANOTHER WIN

Sparked by George Reid and Bob Graham, North Side Legion added another victory to their undefeated record by winning 3-2 over Oliver St. Pats in a soccer league fixtures at Clarke stadium Tuesday evening.

Reid gave the Legion a 2-0 lead in the first half and shortly after the cross-over Graham made it 3-0. St. Pats staged a rally from there on, however, with Jim Magee and Sam Davidson netting counters, but were unable to get the equalizer that would have meant a share of the points.

PITCHES NO-HIT GAME BUT IS DEFEATED 1-0

YORK, PA., (AP)—Whiffing 13 batsmen, Tom Ketterman pitched a no-hit game of 10 innings but came out on the short end of the score.

His American Legion junior baseball team dropped a 1-0 decision Monday to Crispus Attauks, whose pitcher, Holland Barnes, fanned 20 and gave up only one scratch infield single.

A low throw to first, a stolen base, a balk and a wild throw produced the winning tally.

New First Sacker Will Bolster Cubs

When Ralph Morgan's Cubs tackle Johnny Galvin's Cards at Renfrew park Thursday in a resumption of City Senior Baseball league play it is expected that the Morganites will be showing a new face in the person of long Tom Kelly. The Santa Clara university first sacker, who comes to Renfrew preceded by a long list of rave notices, was due in the city Wednesday.

To quote John Ducey, Kelly is rated a "second edition of Hal Chase." He won't have to rank with the storied Chase to set tongues of local fans wagging. But if he comes close to the Ducey build-up he'll brighten the picture considerably.

While the Cubs are looking to Kelly to add strength, both defensively and offensively, the Cards are viewing gloomily the injury to Outfielder Emil Peroni. The stocky gardener with the camera eyes cracked a bone in his right hand sliding into third in a recent game and figures to be sidelined for several weeks. Gerry Seaman is expected to take over for Peroni until the Californian is ready again.

Tonight's game starts at 6:45 o'clock.

Conacher-Carveth In Hockey Trade

BOSTON, (AP)—A straight swap of Left Winger Roy Conacher for Joe Carveth, Detroit Red Wings high-scoring right hander, was announced Tuesday by President Weston Adams of Boston Bruins National Hockey league club.

Adams said he has been eager to acquire Carveth, who has amassed 145 points during the last three seasons, because the Bruins have been under-staffed with right hand shots.

"We have a lot of strength on the left side and Carveth is not only a capable right winger but a centre as well," Adams said. "We disliked giving Conacher, but when you trade for a valuable player you have to give up a valuable player."

Conacher joined the Bruins during the 1938-39 season and spent two years overseas with the R.C.A.F. before rejoining the club last February.

Carveth, 28, and weighing 175 pounds, has been especially effective against the Bruins since the Red Wings promoted him from their Indianapolis American league farm team during the 1939-40 season. He is the second outstanding player the Bruins have obtained this week. Sunday the club announced the purchase of defenceman Walter (Babe) Pratt from Toronto Maple Leafs.

Brooklyn Has Spot For Joe Medwick

NEW YORK, (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers' emphasis on youth apparently couldn't quite offset the pennant fever as the national league leaders Tuesday announced the signing of 34-year-old Joe (Ducky) Medwick for the role of pinch hitter.

Thus the veteran Ducky, making his second appearance in a Dodger uniform, is brought back to the majors by the man who brought him up. Branch Rickey launched Medwick on his spectacular major league career when he brought him from Houston to the Cardinals in 1932. Now, as Dodger president, he gives the slugging outfielder one more chance, just when it appeared Ducky's days in the big time were behind him.

BILL COOK TO COACH

MINNEAPOLIS, (AP)—Bill Cook, director and chief scout of Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey league, Tuesday was named coach of the Minneapolis team of the United States Hockey league.

Wimbledon Tennis Barren of Upsets

WIMBLEM, (CP)—Seven of the eight seeded women's singles player, including top-seeded Pauline Betz of Los Angeles, advanced Tuesday in the All-England tennis championships.

Four of them were Americans and their display of power justified their choice as top-heavy favorites to keep the women's title in the United States.

Miss Betz loafed to a straight-set victory, 6-3, 6-1, over Josane De Meulemester-Sigart, a Belgian and Wimbledon doubles champion of 14 years ago. Margaret Osborne of San Francisco, seeded No. 2 and expected to meet Miss Betz in the final, trounced Mrs. J. W. K. Stork of Britain, 6-2, 6-0. Both were second-round matches. Miss Betz and Miss Osborne drew byes through the first round.

Britain's chief hope in the women's singles, Mrs. Kay Stammers Menzies, seeded fourth, easily defeated a fellow-Briton, Miss P A. O'Connel, 6-1, 6-1, in the first round.

Mrs. Jean Nicoll Bostock, No. 6, and eighth-seeded Mrs. S. Loffargue of France also advanced. Both Mrs. Bostock and Mrs. Menzies are British Wightman cup players.

Regina Hopeful of Building Powerful Football Set-Up

By Norman Altstediter

REGINA, (CP)— Saskatchewan Roughriders are lunging towards football honors this week staging thier pre-season pigskin sessions with expectation of a half-dozen imports and a revamped name.

They changed the name recently from Regina Rough Riders to Saskatchewan Rough Riders with an eye cast towards rooters from Jaw and Weyburn where representatives were chosen to sit on the club executive.

The red and black gridders of the Western Rugby Union expect to better their chances with outside talent. There is talk of bringing players up from the United States and it is definite that Montreal's Pop Poplowsly will line up with the 'Riders'.

Pop Has Class

Pop was a star backfielder in Montreal in pre-war days and played with Toronto's dominion champion R.C.A.F. Hurricanes in 1942 as well as shining in overseas games.

The club expects not only rooters but players from throughout Saskatchewan and has sent an open invitation to huskies to line up from June 24 to July 6 for workouts in Regina—all expenses paid.

The executive is looking far into the football future and has plans to support three junior clubs around the Queen City in the coming season. The 'Riders are going all out for the Western Canada Rugby Union crown they last wore in 1936.

They're Feudin'

The 'Riders are already feuding with Winnipeg Blue Bombers. It seems that Arthur U. Chipman of the Bombers executive promised that Regina would get a look at Montreal's Alouettes when they go west in August.

But the deal has fallen through and Bombers are taking both games scheduled, pleading heavy commitments and adding that the Alouettes don't want to go any further west.

Dave (Regina Leader-Post) Dryburgh says the last reason is a laugh. Lew Hayman, Alouettes' mentor told him during the war that come peace, aviation would make an All-Canada rugby union a reality.

Says Dave: "Why Lew, don't you remember, We haven't any cowboys and Indians out here."

STEALING HOME PLATE NOT ALWAYS POPULAR

HALIFAX, (CP)—Stealing home plate can be either a neat trick or a dirty trick; it depends on the circumstances.

It was revealed at a meeting of the civic recreation commission that playgrounds supervisors were forced to leave the bases in private homes because of a current outbreak of thefts.

Home plate will be attached to a long spike in future.

NIGGELING HAS PLANS

English Cricket

LONDON, (CP)—The bowling of Alex Bedser, who took 11 wickets for 145 runs, and the batting of Joe Hardstaff, who scored 205, were major factors in England's decisive victory over India in the first post-war cricket test match between the two teams which ended Tuesday.

England won by 10 wickets. No wickets had fallen in the home team's second innings by the time the 48 runs necessary to top India's total had been scored.

The visitors, battling first when the match began Saturday, scored 200 runs in the first innings and 275 in the second. England scored 428 in the first innings.

POLICE BEATEN!

This a lot of kids will like. Playing at Patricia Park grounds Tuesday the McCauley Pats, a junior boys fastball team, scored an 11-10 win over a Police aggregation. Winning run was scored in the ninth inning. Ralph Young and Stan McMann formed the battery for the youngsters.

Judges and Arbitration

Last week at Ottawa, during the consideration of the justice department estimates, the cry was again heard that Canadian judges were spending too much of their time serving on royal commissions and acting as arbitrators in labor disputes. Speakers urged that in future they should not be called away from the bench so often for extra-judicial duties.

It is vitally important, of course, that the courts should at all times be kept adequately staffed and ready to fulfil their functions. Nevertheless, the practice of employing high court judges for important investigation and arbitration assignments has much to commend it. Judges are often peculiarly well qualified for work of this kind.

This is especially the case in regard to the labor disputes which have been so prominent lately. These are frequently bitter and heated, and leave both parties resentful and suspicious. To have any prospect of success, an arbitrator must be a man of dignity and authority, whose impartiality is above question. A superior court judge fulfils these conditions better than anyone else.

This is reflected in the success which several judges have had in composing industrial disputes. The work of Mr. Justice Sloan of British Columbia in settling the lumber strike, of Mr. Justice Richards of Manitoba in the packing-house troubles last year, and of Mr. Justice Rand, of the Supreme Court of Canada, in a number of Ontario arbitrations, comes immediately to mind.

By contrast, in the United States, where mediation is generally undertaken by economists and government officials, it has proved notably unsuccessful. These men--rightly or wrongly--acquire the reputation of being pro-labor or pro-management, and their findings are apt to be discounted in advance.

In view of the growing importance of labor matters, therefore, the use of judges as conciliators or arbitrators seems necessary in the public interest. If this leads to interference with the work of the courts, the obvious remedy would be to appoint more judges. Some of these indeed, might be appointed on the understanding that, while normally engaged in judicial duties, they would be available when necessary for arbitration assignments.

Weatherman Talks Back

The worm, we are told, eventually turns, and now that much-abused character, the weatherman, has talked back to his numerous critics.

The dominion weather bureau has issued an analysis of its forecasts last month in six major Canadian cities: Victoria, Vancouver, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Toronto and Halifax. This shows that eighty-three percent of its predictions were correct, a surprisingly low margin of error, and one far different from popular notions on the subject.

The best record was made at Victoria, where the forecasts were accurate ninety-seven percent of the time. Only one error was made during the whole month. Whether this was due to the exceptional efficiency of the local office, or to the peculiarly even climate of Victoria--where both the rain and the sunshine come in six-month lots--the official statement does not say.

Weather forecasting, both in Canada and all over the world, has indeed improved very greatly in recent years. New and more acurate methods of prediction have come into use. The war, in which knowledge of tomorrow's weather was often of the most critical importance, has given the science of meteorology a most powerful stimulus.

In Canada, the decentralization of the weather bureau, with predictions made for each district instead of for the whole country from Toronto, has made for fewer mistakes. The goal of perfection is now in sight.

We suspect, however, that until the end of time, outraged citizens caught in an unforeseen rainstorm will demand the weatherman's scalp.

A Nazi defendant at Nuernberg tells how he planned to kill Hitler with poison gas. He doesn't explain how he expected the gas to get through the curtain of hot air around the fuehrer.

Mr. King and Walpole

Prime Minister King's hope expressed at a recent non-party dinner in his honor, that he could stay in parliament, "a few years longer" but that he definitely would not run in another election, has made everything clear to a number of Ottawa soothsayers. This means that Mr. King will retire to private life on or soon after April 21, 1948.

That, you see, happens to be the date on which Mr. King will have beaten Sir Robert Walpole's record by one day. Sir Robert was prime minister of England from 1721 to 1742, or for 7,619 days!

Who counted the days? Ottawa gossip has it that Mr. King himself had that done, and that Leap Years and such things were all taken into account.

Mr. King takes a good deal of satisfaction in his long tenure of office. It is recorded that the day he left for England, last May 15, he proudly exclaimed "Today I've been prime minister as long as Pitt." Pitt's record, a press release from the prime minister's office revealed, was 6,911 days.

And last June 8, Mr. King beat Sir John A. Macdonald's 6,937 days as prime minister.

Mr. King's ambition to be prime minister longer than Sir Robert Walpole is understandable, because it is so human. And, if Mr. King had not very definitely cut himself off from participation in the next general election, it might provide a grand slogan for the party's stalwarts. One can imagine them calling on the faithful to re-elect the present Liberal leader, say in a snap election next fall, or even next year, just to "Let King Beat Walpole!"

Elections have been won--and lost--on equally frivolous appeals.

However, we imagine there'll be no federal election now until a decent interval after April 21, 1948. Mr. King wishes to reign longer than did Walpole, and Mr. King, we fancy, usually has his way with his followers. They certainly owe him something for keeping the Liberal party in power for all the years he has.

There is, however, one thing on which Mr. King cannot beat Walpole. Sir Robert was prime minister for 7,619 successive days; Mr. King's tenure has been interrupted.

Put Away the Gun-Toters

Not until all Canadian judges, juries and magistrates are convinced that a man who carries a gun while engaged in criminal activities is a potential murderer, will the revolver and pistol become really unpopular among criminals.

In recent weeks, cases have been reported of armed robbers being given prison sentences that could hardly have been much lighter had no gun been carried. The other day, for example, a Winnipeg judge sentenced a young man to penitentiary for four and a half years after he had pleaded guilty to two armed robberies, five housebreakings and one of illegal possession of a pistol.

In sharp contrast have been severe punishments ordered by Montreal judges during recent weeks. In one case, a young thug was sent to penitentiary for nineteen years on charges of armed robbery and illegal possession of an offensive weapon.

Already, too many cases of youths carrying guns on a hold-up expedition have resulted in killings. Heavy prison terms for illegal possession of lethal weapons might save lives, and, for that matter, might also save youthful wrong-doers from the possibility of facing charges of murder and manslaughter through use of a gun they "didn't intend to use".

More punishments of the Montreal type would do much to put the gun on the criminals' blacklist.

POLISH REFERENDUM

By L.S.B. Shapiro

NEW YORK

The national referendum in Poland, scheduled for June 30, will provide the solution to a number of problems currently exercising the Polish government, among then the structural form of Poland's future parliament and the extent to which the people approve the abrupt territorial and policy changes carried out by the administration, but it will fail to answer the one question which is troubling the world west of the Oder what degree of direct control does Moscow wield over the members of the present Polish government?

In Warsaw itself, this question is the one most frequently asked by political observers, both Polish and foreign. The fact that no clean-cut answer is obtainable even among those who live in the shadow of Poland's administrative buildings is in itself significant. It reflects on the glibness with which some American and British commentators toss around the expression, "taking their orders from Moscow."

X X X

It is undoubtedly true--based on my personal conversations with most of the cabinet ministers in Warsaw--that at least two-thirds of them take their inspiration from Moscow but taking inspiration is, in theory, a different thing from taking orders. The one is legitimate by our standards of political liberty, the other is obviously treasonable. Yet the dividing line is a thin one, and in the confusing state of Polish politics it is not always discernible.

When you ask an intelligent Warsaw resident what degree of control Moscow wields over his government, he will tell you, if he is honest, that he does not know. He will add, if he is frank, that it makes little practical difference whether a cabinet minister does what Moscow asks him to do, or what he knows Moscow would like him to do.

I have found, in the course of an extensive experience with European Communists, that they have a common characteristic which sets them apart from North American Communists. They (the European Communists) can combine their belief in Kremlin policies with a fervent nationalism. The French or German Communist, for instance, regards himself as a French or German patriot first and a Communist second. He works it out in his conscience to his own satisfaction, and apparently to Moscow's.

So it is with the Moscow-inspired Polish cabinet ministers. They will deny with honest indignation that they are using their country as an instrument of Russian foreign policy. They will affirm on the other hand that certain principles, in which they devoutly believe, are the only salvation for the stricken Polish nation, and if these principles hew to the Moscow line, then it is indeed a fortunate thing because Poland is in no position to affront Russia in any manner.

X X X

This is the attitude generally attributed to all of the Polish cabinet ministers with two exceptions: Wladyslaw Gomulka, vice-premier and Communist strong man, and Stanislaw Radkiewicz, minister of public security. It is commonly believed in Warsaw that these men take their orders directly from Moscow, and are in fact the Kremlin's appointed watchdogs to see that the others in the cabinet do not put their Polish patriotism too blatantly ahead of their belief in the international objectives of Communism.

The real test of the Polish government will come when the national election takes place, probably next fall. If a Mikolajczyk victory is indicated in the last stages of the campaign, the reaction of the cabinet will reveal whether they are true Polish patriots or Moscow serfs.

Another Speech Due

Mr. Ilya Ehrenburg, a Moscow journalist now visiting Canada, has been offering some free criticism of the Canadian press, a good deal more free than factual. It is not necessary, however, to suppose the visitor means to be unfair, to stir up ill-feeling, or to abuse the liberities of a guest. He comes from a country where the press is only a transmitter of official propaganda, and naturally is astounded, and somewhat displeased, that men here should be allowed to write and publish what they think.

Before he journeys home Mr Ehrenburg would render some service to the cause of general enlightenment if he were to tell us what exactly would happen to a Canadian journalist should one visit Russia and there express his opinion of the kept press in the same tone Mr. Ehrenburg has employed to voice his views of the free press of Canada.

Reparations Out?

Unable to agree that they should levy reparations payments upon bankrupt Italy, the Big Four foreign ministers at Paris turned to the question of collecting compensation for Allied property which Mussolini seized. As they had to thus shelve one issue on which they have been deadlocked, the prospect of the conference being successful is correspondingly dimmed.

It is very possible that the shelving will turn out to be permanent, despite Russia's insistence on reparations. Il Duce left Italy about as completely down and out financially as it could be. Perhaps by the time they have found out how to get compensation for seized property the ministers will decide that collecting reparations in addition would be as hopeless an undertaking as extracting blood from a stone.

Franco Wins

The Russian delegate vetoed a proposal that the Security Council ask the General Assembly of the United Nations for instruction as to what it should do regarding the Franco government of Spain. This is in line with Moscow's insistence that the Council proceed to call upon the member-nations to break off diplomatic relations with the hang-over Axis regime. Since the veto power applies, the Council is stymied.

And the Assembly cannot break the deadlock. Article 12 of the Charter says:-

"While the Security Council is exercising in respect of any dispute or situation the functions assigned to it by the present Charter, the General Assembly shall not make any recommendations with regard to that dispute or situation unless the Security Council so requests".

As the Council has been prevented making such a request, this clause bars action on the part of the Assembly. It could of course act if the Council should decide to drop the question from its agenda - but M. Gromyko would certainly block that move.

It seems to be Franco's turn to cheer. His chief critic has stalled the machinery, and neither Council nor Assembly can do anything about the "potential threat" his government has been declared to be.

Savings Bonds

Having bought bonds to help finance the war effort, Canadians of all classes are to be allowed to go on buying bonds in order to build up personal and family safeguards and "backlogs" of savings.

The announcement will be welcomed everywhere. It marks a departure in peacetime financing policy that is long over-due. Hitherto in times of peace the person of small or only moderate income did not get a "look in" when the Dominion wanted to borrow money.

When a loan was floated he read a brief despatch from Ottawa saying that the books had been opened in New York or Montreal or London, and closed shortly after, with the loan over-subscribed. What this meant was that the "big shots" had agreed beforehand to snap up the bonds as soon as they were offered, and did so.

The war brought a wide-open opportunity to buy bonds to people of relatively small means. The response was amazing. Billions of bonds went into safety deposit boxes in the names of people who had never owned bonds before, and every new issue brought more individual buyers.

Having got the habit, there is every reason to suppose that bond-buying will become a popular method of laying away savings for personal security and use. Thrift is not a dead impulse among Canadians. The war financing showed that. Going to the public for peacetime loans is as logical as appealing to them for war loans. It may prove to be equally successful as a means of raising needed money.

Today in Europe

By
Randolph Churchill

ZURICH, Switzerland -- The first stirrings in the plot which ultimately overthrew Mussolini date back to the summer of 1942. The most active though not the most important figure was undoubtedly Gen. Giuseppe Castellano, assistant to Gen. Vittorio Ambrosio, then Chief of Staff.

At that time, the Fascist party had lost much of its former political strength. Mussolini's popularity had practically vanished. Many Fascist leaders had been opposed to Italy's participation in the war, and by this time, there was scarcely anyone except Roberto Farinacci who was for continuing the war.

By autumn of that year, Gen. Castellano's activities had succeeded in bringing into close touch King Victor Emmanuel, Gen. Ambrosio and Count Ciano, who was still Foreign Minister. Victor Emmanuel was represented in all these preliminary discussions by the Duke of Acquarone, head of his household. But as early as November, the King sent for Ciano and discussed with him means of getting Italy out of the war.

The conspirators early recognized two main difficulties. One was how the new Italian Government, to be formed at the moment Italy quit the war, was to protect itself against the Fascist party and German reaction. Italian generals were more apprehensive of what the Fascists would do than of what the Germans would do. But the politicians involved foresaw virtually no Fascist opposition, but that, if Italy quit the war, it would certainly mean war with Germany.

The second obstacle was the fact that the Chief of the General Staff, Ugo Cavallero, was staunchly pro-German.

Meanwhile, in November, 1942, Mussolini became gravely ill. Many of the conspirators began to hope there would be a natural solution "by an act of God." So for some time, the plot hung fire.

However, Mussolini recovered from his illness and showed he intended to keep Italy at German's side. So the conspirators decided that they must proceed with their plans.

All were agreed that the first step must be the removal of Cavallero. Mussolini was already prejudiced against Cavallero, who had urged him to come to Libya to ride into Alexandria and Cairo at the head of the Italian troops. Mussolini had prudently rejected this invitation but, when Cavallero pressed him again, he fell for it. As a result, he arrived in Libya just in time to witness Rommel's repulse.

The conspirators now let Mussolini know that Cavallero had been planning to take over his job. This proved decisive and, at the end of January, 1943, Mussolini dismissed Cavallero and, after some days of hesitation, replaced him with Gen. Ambrosio.

From this time on, the conspiracy gathered momentum.

The Road Ahead

By J. Harper Prowse, M.L.A.

I cannot follow the reasoning of those who have convinced themselves, and are trying to convince the government of Canada, that removal of all price controls is the key to the solution of our chief problems. They argue there would be a short, swift flutter of prices to higher levels, but this would not last for any appreciable period, the price level would quickly adjust itself to the wage level, production would be stimulated and all live happily ever after. It is just as simple as that, they claim. I agree that it is just as simple as that--but not in the sense of "easy".

The country is sitting on top of a pent-up volcano. The public possesses more buying power than at any time in this nation's history. Because of prolonged shortages of every type of consumer good there is an unprecedented demand for every type of commodity from pins to locomotives. For various reasons production can't begin to satisfy that demand--regardless of how much incentive is offered in the form of the increased wages and profits which would be permitted by increased prices. Under these circumstances, if price controls were taken off, prices would skyrocket, but production would continue to lag far behind demand.

We would have inflation overnight--inflation beyond the imagination of the most pessimistic. This would continue until either the consumers went on a strike in protest against prices, or all their money had been spent. Then the whole crazy unbalanced pyramid of prices would come tumbling down in a thunderstorm of panic and confusion. I'm not sure it wouldn't end up in revolution. It would certainly be marked by riots and disorders of every kind. Democracy--our form of democracy--might well be wiped out as a result.

There is no simple solution or it would have been applied before. Certain price adjustments are necessary--partly because of situations which have arisen in the United States, partly because of changed situations here. I believe cautious adjustments of price levels, combined with direction to producers and subsidies where necessary, combined with sanity on the part of the purchasing public, can see us through. But it will only take one false move and the lid will blow off with a blast that will make the atomic bomb seem like a firecracker.

GENEVA:- In Zurich the other day, a head waiter served the meal and stopped to chat.

"Canada?" he said, "what a pity Canada didn't get independence out of the war. Seems to be entitled to it." The occasion seemed inappropriate for a discourse on the inner meaning of the British commonwealth.

The trouble with independence of Canada is that it has never been marked on the pages of history by any spectacular event, such as bloody revolution, to catch the eye of the common man around the world. The Swiss idea of freedom and independence is symbolized in William Tell, who is a universal legend.

It is therefore, with something like warm kinship that a visitor, who favors the survival of the ideals of western civilization, contemplates the Swiss. As a matter of fact, it is something more than a coincidence that a Canadian finds countries like Switzerland, France and Belgium, full of "types" common in North America.

At Lugano the other day, the Italian-language Swiss were sorry that Italy was in such dire straits. But that had taken Mussolini's measurements 20 years ago. Lugano, after all, once gave refuge to Mazzini and countless Italian patriots.

In Geneva, which is French-language Switzerland, the streets are a little less tidy, in the French fashion. The city looks rundown, as does France. But Geneva is still the city of freedom, where the lights have shone since the days of John Calvin and before. It is the city that gave the world the Red Cross and that housed the League of Nations (though that League site near the railway tracks is not much of a credit to Geneva). A monument in Geneva to soldiers killed in the service of Switzerland in 1914-18, already had the added figures "1939-45" carved in stone. There is no space for any more dates. Geneva apparently figures if there are any more wars, they won't leave even any monuments behind them.

Wheat Agreement Not Reached Yet

By Torchy Anderson

OTTAWA.—Suspicion that there is a hitch in the negotiations between Britain and Canada for a long-term agreement for the sale of wheat was not removed by the press conference statements of Britain's food minister Strachey.

The British minister, now but two months old in his job of feeding Britain, said Tuesday the agreement would not be signed immediately following his last conference with the Canadian cabinet.

"But," he added, "there is no doubt we are coming to an agreement." He denied that representations by the United States had caused the delay.

What he did not comment on naturally, was the generally acceptedfact that there is a grave difference of opinion over the proposed agreement within the Canadian cabinet.

Mr. Strachey told his conference that the agreement between Canada and Britain would not be "exclusive". He described press reports commenting on this subject as "ill informed".

He added it would be impractical for Britain to import all her wheat needs from Canada. He denied that she wanted to put herself in the position of being a wheat broker for all Canadian wheat production.

He denied that "state trading" was being applied to the importation of food to Britain; the present system was basic planning. The Labor government in Britain was determined to plan for British agriculture but not to nationalize it.

Expel Writer From Rumania

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Dean Acheson, acting secretary of state, said Tuesday Russia has rejected a United States protest against suppression of news freedom in Rumania, and has forced Reuben Markham of the Christian Science Monitor to leave that country.

Markham had written stories on conditions in Russian-occupied, Communist-dominated Rumania to which the Russians objected.

Poland Endorses Soviet Atom Plan

NEW YORK, (AP) — Poland Tuesday endorsed the Soviet Russian plan for outlawing atomic warfare.

Dr. Oscar Lange, Polish delegate to the United Nations atomic energy commission, said his government gave full support to the proposal made last week by Andrei A. Gromyko, of Russia.

It provided for a "draft convention aiming at the immediate outlawing of the 'production, keeping and use of weapons based upon atomic energy' and also for the immediate destruction of all such weapons in whatever part of the world in which they may be."

Alexandre Parodi of France earlier told the commission his government approved "in principle" the United States plan for atomic control and for outlawing the atom bomb.

Dr. Lange expressed approval of the parts of the United States plan providing that the manufacture of atomic bombs shall stop and that existing bombs shall be disposed of pursuant to terms of a treaty to be made between the United Nations.

The United States said it would be willing to stop making bombs and would dispose of its atomic bombs when adequate controls were set up to curb atomic energy.

Earlier Tuesday Australia put forward a proposal to set up a master committee to draft plans for atomic energy control.

Can't See Need To Ration Bread

HASTINGS, Sussex, England, (Reuters)—British bakers at a meeting of their national association Tuesday unanimously resolved to urge the government not to start bread rationing.

"There is as much wheat and flour entering the country as in 1939. There is no occasion whatever for Britain to be rushed into bread rationing," one speaker said.

In London, fiery Independent Labor member of the commons, John McGovern, said there is a growing feeling in Britain that the people were "being taken for a ride" on the world food problem and that the situation was not nearly as bad as had been reported.

Say Nazi Ordered 'Traitors' Killed

MEDICINE HAT, (CP)— Veiled reference to a rumor that a senior German officer, a prisoner of war in eastern Canada, had issued orders in 1944 to all German prisoners in Canada that all "traitors" were to done away with, and that all evidence was to indicate "suicide", was made Monday during the trial of Sgt. Major Bruno Perzenowski.

The accused is one of four Nazi captives charged with the hanging of a fellow prisoner, Karl Lehmann, in the Medicine Hat internment camp on Sept. 10, 1944.

D/Sgt. J. W. Stanton, R.C.M.P., Edmonton, under cross examination by G.E.A. Rice, defence counsel, said such a rumor had spread and he had heard it. Sgt. Stanton said he had nothing to substantiate the rumor.

Sgt. Walter Wolf, Sgt. Major Willi Mueller and Sgt. Major Heinrich Busch are the other three scheduled to face the court after the present hearing.

D/Cpl. J. M. Campbell, R.C.M.P., continued with identification of photographs taken by him on Sept. 12, 1944, during investigation of the hanging.

Also present then was D/Sgt. Stanton. He identified certain articles of clothing worn by Lehmann, the rope which had been used to hang him, and described in detail the condition of the body as he found it.

Witness also gave evidence substantiating a theory that Lehmann had been hanged from a main gas line, but that the rope had broken, and the body was then hanged from a second gas line. When the investigation took place, Lehmann's knees were about three inches from the floor, and his head was wedged between two vertical pipe lines.

British House Sits All Night

LONDON, (REUTERS) —When the commons held its marathon session of 20 hours throughout Monday night, neither Herbeert Morrison, government leader in the house, nor Winston Churchill, opposition leader, was present.

Tuesday afternoon when the house resumed, that fact caused a clash between the two men before consideration of the finance bill—the bill that caused the all-night sitting—was continued.

It began when Col. Oliver Stanley, Conservative, asked: "May we hope that in our second all-night sitting we shall have the presence of the leader of the house?"

Mr. Morrison replied that he could give no more guarantees about his presence than Col. Stanley could give about the presence of the opposition leader. He (Morrison) had many things to do and "the house was competently led" by the chancellor of the exchequer, Hugh Dalton.

It was the longest session since February, 1936, when commons sat for 21½ hours—but was less than half as long as the record of 41½ hours established in 1881.

"Capture" Ferry, Draw $25 Fines

LADNER, B.C., (CP)—It looked like "piracy" to the engineer of the Steveston-Ladner ferry when two men boarded the boat, cast the lines, and started on a downstream voyage.

They didn't go far. The outgoing tide carried the ferry a short distance, but she was held by a line the men had not found.

After playing the fire extinguishers freely about the boat and spraying the engineer, he finally cornered them in a wash-room and locked the door.

In court here Monday the men, Harry A. Maxwell and Byron Coltart, were fined $25 each on intoxication charges and ordered to pay property damage of $20.

The Madcap, a Holstein Fresian, set a world record in 1942 with an annual yield of 41,943 pounds of milk with 1,392 pounds of butterfat.

COLLEGE OF CARDINALS APPROVES CANONIZATION OF MOTHER CABRINI

COUNTRY 'COUSINS' SEND RICE RATION TO TOKYO YOUNGSTERS

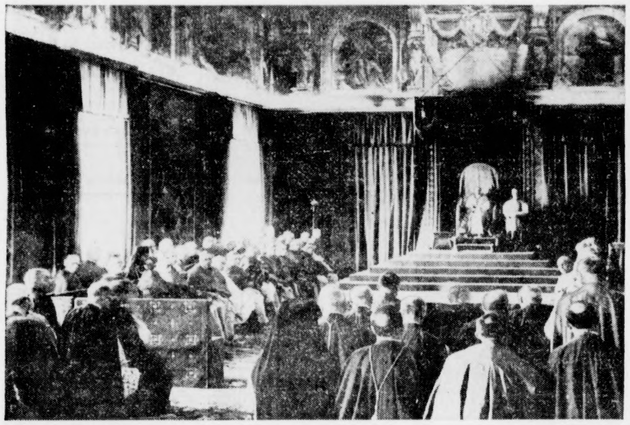
Copyright, 1946, by Acme Newspictures, Inc.

SPECIAL DELIVERY—Clerks reporting to work in a San Francisco post office were attracted by the smug looks of the night-watchman's cat which was purring alongside a mailman's pouch. They opened the bag and there were—five newborn kittens.

INAUSPICIOUS START — On his way to make his first official speech as head of the new Italian Republic, Premier Alcide De Gasperi needed helping hand to get out of trapped elevator.

NAZI MURDERER IDENFIFIED—Lt. Virgil P. Lary, Jr., one of the few survivors of the Malmedy massacre, points an accusing finger at a former German Elite Guard, during war crime trial in Dachau, Germany, identifying him as one of the Nazis who ruthlessly murdered unarmed Yanks.

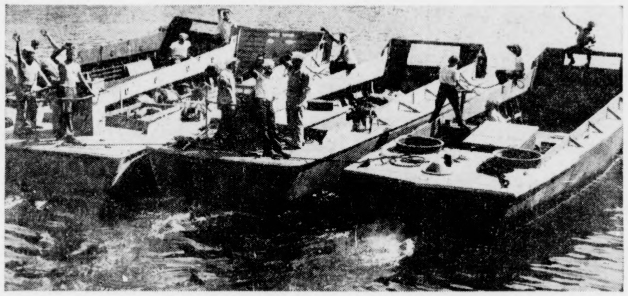
IN FRIENDSHIP'S NAME—When the bombs fell hard on Tokyo, children from Mukojima Primary School were evacuated to Ibaragi Prefecture. Now, back in Tokyo where food is hard to get, they find they haven't been deserted by their Ibaragi friends. Here the Tokyo youngsters crowd around to receive part of the gift of rice sent them by their former schoolmates.



MOTHER CABRINI TO BE CANONIZED—Pope Pius XII sits on the throne, surrounded by the College of Cardinals, during the semi-public consistory which approved unanimously the canonization of Mother Frances Xavier Cabrini, who will become the first American citizen ever elevated to sainthood in the Roman Catholic Church.

MONARCHISTS DEMONSTRATE—After the election in Italy won control of the government for the republicans, monarchist crowds staged demonstrations throughout the country. Here supporters of the king display their loyalty in Naples.

NAUTICAL TALK—Vice Admiral Jorge Dodsworth Martins, Brazilian navy head, confers with Emmet McCormack, during a ship executives' luncheon at Waldorf-Astoria, New York.

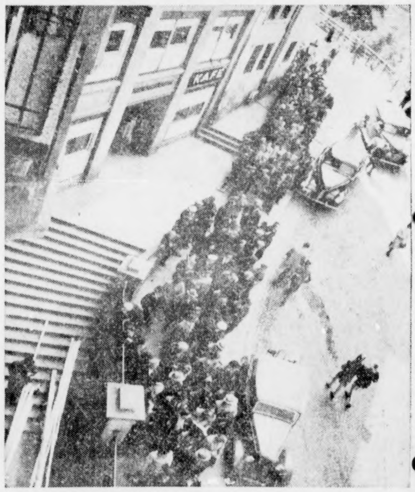


YOUTHFUL ADVENTURE—Navy LCV's, that hit the beaches of Normandy, Salerno and Okinawa, are being borrowed by Sea Scouts for a 600-mile trip up the Pacific Coast. The youthful adventurers wave goodbye as they start north from San Pedro, Calif.

FLYING LAB—Pan American Captain Wallace Weber sits in the cockpit of a B-29 that has been converted into a flying laboratory at the General Electric plant in Schenectady, N.Y.

UNNECESSARY — Noel Neill brought protests from cameramen in Hollywood when they discovered her trying to reduce. She's perfect now, they say.

MOVIE INFLUENCE—Fashion experts claim movies have played an all important role in the field of American fashion. Here the trend in evening gowns is marked by Warner Brothers' films released in the past 20 years. The low hip line and short skirt number, left, worn in "Don Juan" was the rage in 1926. From "Midsummer Night's Dream" in 1936 came this smoothly fitted lace gown with a swirling skirt, center. This year's "Night and Day" model is a black strapless chiffon dress over a white eyelet petticoat, right.



LONG WAIT—Lines for liquor in Norway are reported longer now that rationing has been abandoned than they were during the shortage. Typical of the daily scene is this crowd outside a state liquor store in Oslo.

Tribute Paid Famous Flier For Aviation Achievements

Representing with the field of northern aviation, those other fields associated with the development of the north country, more than 400 persons Tuesday evening packed the main dining room of the Macdonald hotel to accord a testimonial dinner to Grant McConachie, pioneer bush pilot and newly appointed assistant to the president of Canadian Pacific Air Lines.

THE OCCASION marked the presentation to Mr. McConachie by Air Vice Marshal T. A. Lawrence CB, officer commanding North West Air Command, of the coveted McKee Trophy, the premier award of aviation in Canada.

Presiding was C. D. Jacox, president of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, whose organization was joined in the role of sponsor by the Alberta and North West Chamber of Mines and Resources, the government of Alberta and the City of Edmonton.

IN ADDITION to the McKee Trophy, Mr. McConachie was recipient of an illuminated address from C. E. Garnett, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Among those speaking in tribute to the guest of honor were Premier Ernest Manning, Ald. Sidney Parsons, acting-mayor; Dr. J. A. Allan, president of the Chamber of Mines; Brig. Gen. Dale V. Gaffney, representing Lt. Gen. Harold L. George, commanding general of Air Transport Command, USAAF; and James Flaherty of the Montana Chamber of Commerce. A congratulatory message, received from Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce and Liberal member of Parliament for Edmonton West, was read by Mr. Jacox.

A HANDSOME souvenir menu and program, drawn up for the occasion, was illustrated with photographs made at various stages of Mr. McConachie's career in the Edmonton and northern areas.

A testimony in the program written by Robert Muir, hailed Mr. McConachie as a former bush pilot who travelled the aerial lanes in the northern syies as a lone eagle, charting skyways that have since become great avenues of commerce.

Backing up these words were the addresses made by the speakers as the evening progressed. Mr. Manning described the new CPA executive as "one to whom great honor is due." The premier added that "he takes with him (to his new post) an enviable record of achievement and a host of good wishes." He lauded the outstanding part played by Mr. McConachie in pioneering aerial transportation in the north.

MR. PARSONS asserted the guest of honor had "done a big job and done it well." Dr. Allan paid tribute to the vision which he said had been instilled in the minds of Alberta youngsters by the accomplishments of Mr. McConachie.

Gen. Gaffney told the distinguished gathering that "We (the American military forces) crossed McConachie's trail wherever we went in the north country." Warning that the present world conditions were such that "we dare not sit back complacently," the United States officer expressed the belief that future aviation over the air trails established "down north" during the war years, would depend on individual characteristics such as those of Grant McConachie, "a true leader."

IN PRESENTING the McKee award, AVM. Lawrence recalled that the trophy had been donated in 1927 by Daizyl McKee of Pittsburgh, Penn., the first flier to complete a trans-Canada seaplane flight. In the 18 occasions on which the trophy had been up for competition, the speaker declared, Edmontonians had been declared winners six times.

The 36-year-old Grant McConachie, in accepting the award, praised the assistance he had received at all times in the various projects he had undertaken and in the many tasks he had performed. He announced that the trophy would remain in Edmonton for one year where young Edmontonians would be able to see it.

"I hope it will be an incentive for them to 'push' aviation from here in the future as it has been in the past," Mr. McConachie concluded.

THE TROPHY was accepted by Mr. Parsons on behalf of the city.

Mr. McConachie's future headquarters with CP Air Lines will be at Montreal. He started work on a fog-free, year-round route to Alaska in 1934. The Second Great War provided the impetus needed by the ambitious undertaking and at present McConachie's early route to Whitehorse and beyond that to Fairbanks, Alaska, is studded with airports every 250 miles. His CPA appointment to head office in Montreal was announced last May 7.

Death of Cyclist Said Accidental

Verdict of accidental death was returned by a six-man coroner's jury Tuesday afternoon at an inquest into the death of 19-year-old Thomas Gilligan, 12423 66 street, killed when his motorcycle crashed into a RCMP truck at the intersection of 104 avenue and 107 street June 20.

HAROLD McCREADY, 9358 107A avenue, special RCMP constable who was driving the truck, told the jury that he had been proceeding west on 104 avenue. Turning south onto 107 street, he stated, he saw the motorcycle about 90 yards away but didn't see it again until after the collision.

Charles Chin, mechanic at the Miracle Auto Service station on the southeast corner of the intersection described the approach of the two vehicles into the intersection and testified that the deceased was hurled off his machine and over the truck cab by the force of the impact.

FRED WILLIAMS and Robert McCormick, also employed at the service station, told the jury of seeing McCready signal to make a turn. They phoned city police and Smith's ambulance to come to the accident scene.

Verdict returned by the jury was that "Thomas Gilligan came to his death when riding on a motorcycle and accidentally colliding with a RCMP truck driven by Harold McCready on June 20 about 1 p.m. at the intersection of 107 street and 104 avenue."

Cause of death was said to be a fractured skull, lacerations and contusion of the brain.

Problems Confronting World Today Are Discussed by Premier Manning

Responsibility of the individual in solving the problem of human relationships, and ultimately the problem of world peace, was the subject of an address delivered by Premier Ernest Manning before a joint meeting of the Men's and Women's Canadian Clubs in the Macdonald hotel Tuesday.

Mr. MANNING said that today's great problem of world disorder lay in the fact that, as individuals "We are pinning our hopes for a lasting peace at the top, counting on world conferences to settle what we have not been able to settle within our own communities and homes."

He spoke of the recent Dominion-Provincial Ottawa conference as an illustration. "If the representatives of 10 Canadian governments cannot sit around a conference table and iron out their difficulties," he said. "What hopes can we pin on 51 nations of the world, faced with barriers of language?"

HE SAID THAT the coming first post-war Dominion Day may well be marked as the stage of a new maturity in Canada. During the war years Canada came of age. Her people have new responsibilities to face.

"What is the progress we have made in physical science," the premier said, "if men canot live at peace with each other without fear of universal destruction. Until we can solve the problem of human relationships as individual to individual, province to province, nation to nation, the world will remain in a state of chaos."

HE GAVE THREE basic causes of the problem today and suggested three antidotes. The first cause he gave as individual inertia and as an antidote, a keener sense of personal responsibility on the part of every individual of every nation. The second cause is that of ignornace. This could be offset by a seeking for knowledge of the truth.

Lastly he named selfishness and suggested as an antidote goodwill. "With goodwill towards our neighbor, towards all mankind, we could not escape peace on earth," he said.

File New Protest On Proposed Grant

Second protest from a Ukrainian organization against the city council's action granting $300 to the Association of Ukrainian Canadians toward the expense of a festival to be staged here at the end of July was lodged with the city commissioners Monday afternoon.

THE PROTEST came from members of the Ukrainian National Federation of Canada, Edmonton Local, on the ground that the Association of Ukrainian Canadians was "purely a political organization, and the proposed festival, according to our views and convictions, is for the purpose of promoting interests detrimental to our Canadian welfare."

Recently another group of Ukrainians protested against the grant on similar grounds, and last week representatives of the Association of Ukrainian Canadians denied that the organization was political, and asserted that the festival was organized to educate Canadians in the Ukrainian folklore and customs.

ATTRACTIVE DISH

If you have a large, old-fashioned wooden chopping bowl which you do not use, sandpaper it, then wax it, and it will make an attractive dish to hold fruit.

SOFT LIGHTING NECESSARY

Lights in a bedroom should give a soft restful glow. There should also be plenty of individual lights for dressing purposes, and most people like a reading lamp at the bedside.

"Sh... I want to hear the name of that new cereal with the gloriously different flavor!"

Post's GRAPE-NUTS FLAKES

1. Mrs. Jones certainly got an earful. For that one-and-only new flavor everybody was talking about in the Nineties was the malty-rich, sweet-as-a-nut Grape-Nuts flavor.

2. And folks are still talking about that same really different taste — but in two grand cereals — curly, honey-golden POST'S GRAPE-NUTS FLAKES as well as crisp, chewy Post's Grape-Nuts.

3. Sun-ripened wheat and malted barley are a double reason why Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes are so good—why they provide carbohydrates for energy; proteins for muscle; phosphorus for teeth and bones; iron for the blood; other food essentials.

Shortage of Goods Seen From Strike

Immediate adverse effects will be felt in the wholesale and retail fields through the strike of workers in rubber factories in eastern Canada, local distributors stated Wednesday.

The industry has been on a day-to-day basis throughout the war, and has not been able to meet the demands in the post war period.

DELIVERY OF fall and winter supplies of rubber boots and overshoes usually starts about July 1, and with all branches of the trade out on strike in the east these shipments will be suspended until the strike is settled.

It is possible also that the stoppage of work will result in a shortage of tires and footwear this winter, one spokesman stated.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS
Western Region

Sealed tenders will be received at the office of the Chief Engineer, Winnipeg, Manitoba, until two o'clock in the afternoon of Monday, July 15th, 1946, for the erection of a six stall frame engine shed at Watrous, Saskatchewan.

Specifications and form of contract may be seen, and form of tender obtained at the office of the Chief Engineer, Winnipeg, District Engineers at Saskatoon and Edmonton, and division engineers at Regina and Calgary.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on form supplied by the railway, and accompanied by an accepted cheque drawn on a chartered bank in Canada in favour of the Canadian National Railways, equal to five per cent of the total amount of the tender.

No bid bonds will be accepted with tenders on this work.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

Audience of 3,000 Enjoys Duke's Jazz

The fabulous Duke Ellington established his right to that regal title in the jazz field at the Arena Tuesday night when he and his 16-piece band "Knocked themselves out" to please the 3,000 persons attending his concert and dance.

The fans filled half the seats in the Arena an hour or more before the program was due to get under way, and as individual members of the band made their way to dressing rooms, a little late, they got big hands from the crowd.

IT WASN'T LONG after the band swung into its first number before the dance floor was crowded, and those who had come to watch and listen, were jammed in solid against the band stand watching their favorites in action.

After a session of the popular classics the Ellington has made famous, the band took time out to eat, but the Duke was booked solid for the intermission.

He signed hundreds of programs scraps of paper, cigarette boxes, anything the fans could find. The other famous names in the band got the same treatment— Johnny Hodges, the sensational alto sax man; Oscar Pettiford, who slapped the bass all night; Sonny Greer on the drums; tricky Sam Nanton on the trombone; Ray Nance, who played violin and sang and clowned his way through the show; and "Cat" Anderson, whose high notes on the trumpet were higher than the Arena roof.

BLIND AL HIBBLER proved his vocal ability with a half-dozen popular tunes, including Gershwin's "Summertime" and got a tremendous ovation from the mob.

POLICE PROBE THEFT

Police are investigating the theft of 10 chickens from a hen-house cwned by Jack Drindzk, 12010 51 street, Tuesday. A wire run was torn down to get at the chickens.

A meeting of the directors of the Edmonton Exhibition Association will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Arena office.

Brave Male Appears on Scene

At long last a brave male has appeared on the scene!

For years husbands around the world have listened impatiently, but meekly, while the "little woman" unfolded pitiful tales of slights encountered from Mrs. Joe Doakes and the rest of the neighbors' wives.

THE BRAVE MAN IS MAGISTRATE A. I. Millar, KC., who Tuesday flatly declared that women's troubles are a headache.

The remark was made during the hearing of an asault case in police court in which Mrs. Agnes Glover pleaded guilty to striking her niece, Mrs. Irene Forwick, as a result of a family quarrel.

"Women's troubles are a headache to any court and there are too many of them coming along," the magistrate stated loudly and firmly.

Mrs. Glover was fined $5 and costs.
